Recent Exercises With The Home Fleet

GAS-MASKED GUN CREW IN ACTION with high-angle gun on board H. M. S. Repulse during recent exercises with the Home Fleet off Portland.

BOMBING PRACTICE IN DESERT

British bombing planes will in the next few days begin to bomb the arid sands of the Sahara, according to the semi-official "Excelsior," which adds that there is no place on the British Isles where bombing practice, with 500 kg. bombs, could be carried without endangering public safety.

The French Government has, therefore, placed the Sahara at the disposal of the British Air Arm. The British squadrons and French and will be stationed at El Golea. The details will be settled between Sir Kingsley Wood, British Air Minister, and M. Guy La Chambre, French Air Minister, when the latter pays a visit to London in the near future—(Transocean).

EMPIRE CHAMBERS RESOLUTION

LONDON, July 21 (Reuter)—The Federation of Empire Chambers of Commerce to-day approved a resolution to be submitted to the Government stressing the desirability of refraining from pressing the enforcement of the regulations requiring the purchase of colonial government stores, except in exceptional circumstances, through crown agents for the colonies in those parts of the Empire where developments permit the purchasing of stores to a larger extent than formerly from local merchants.

Ironside For Home

WARSAW, July 21 (Reuter)—General Sir Edmund Ironside, Inspector-General of the Overseas Forces, left by special plane for England on the completion of his visit here. His exact destination is being kept a secret but it is believed that Sir Edmund will join the ordinary service at Amsterdam.

Before leaving, Sir Edmund Ironside spoke in Polish to a detachment of legionaries in blue uniforms, who fought under him at Murmansk.

The Polish newspapers refrain from all comment on the shooting incident in Danzig.

GERMAN EAGLE COOS LIKE DOVE AS HITLER HOLIDAYS

How To Get Danzig Without War Is Vacation Problem

BERLIN, July 21 (Reuter)—Herr Hitler, who is taking a holiday in the Bavarian Alps, is looking forward to a "peaceful solution of the Danzig question, but without compromise on Germany's part," according to well-informed political circles.

The official emphasis is now all on "firmness and peace." Germany's military preparations are described as natural precautions, since war is clearly possible, but it is also stated that she does not regard war as a right or desirable solution.

"Hundred Per Cent."

"Hitler is one hundred per cent. determined to get Danzig without yielding an inch," a Government spokesman told Reuter, "but he is equally one hundred per cent. anxious to get it without war."

To-day's hope is that Poland will opt for a peaceful solution on a sort of quid pro quo basis that will damage her prestige as little as possible.

Figuring It Out

The Nazis see two possible lines of development: Firstly, a Pact with Russia making Britain a cog in the automatic guarantee system, as a result of which she would have no freedom of action left and would consequently press Poland not to precipitate a conflict; or she would have no freedom of action left and would consequently press Poland not to precipitate a conflict; or

N.S.W. MINISTER RESIGNS

SYDNEY, July 21 (T/Ocean)—Hon. E. S. Spooner, Minister for Local Government and Secretary for Public Works in New South Wales, resigned on Thursday, and at the same time, relinquished the post of Deputy Leader of the United Australia Party.

Mr. Spooner's decision is due to accusations made by his Party of infringement of Party discipline. Mr. Spooner is said to have asserted that the Cabinet had falsified the New South Wales budget and carried through illegal financial measures.

JAPANESE PRESS IS DOING ITS BEST TO MAKE SITUATION DIFFICULT FOR BOTH PARTIES

British Government Will Not Give Assurances That Concessions Be Neutral

LONDON, July 21 (REUTER)—NOTHING IS KNOWN IN LONDON BEARING OUT THE JAPANESE REPORT THAT THE BRITISH AMBASSADOR, SIR ROBERT CRAIGIE, AND THE JAPANESE FOREIGN MINISTER, MR. HACHIRO ARITA, HAD COME TO AN AGREEMENT REGARDING THE BACKGROUND OF THE TIENTSIN ISSUE.

Despite Japanese press reports on the progress of the conversations in Tokyo, Reuter understands that there is no cause for despondency which is beginning to creep in Far Eastern circles.

AUTHORITATIVE CIRCLES POINT OUT that the Japanese press, largely under the influence of the extremists, is using every device known to the propagandist to put not only the British but the Japanese Government in a difficult situation.

It is emphasized that official statements of the conversations and the Japanese Government attitude do not endorse, in any respect, press rumours which may be accepted with a large admixture of salt.

The diplomatic correspondent of the "Times" says that the British Government is unwilling to give assurances that the concessions will be neutral. They are ready to inquire whether a broad kind of modus vivendi for the present exceptional time can be reached without damaging the interests of either Great Britain or other friendly Powers, in Asia or elsewhere. Beyond that, Britain cannot go, the correspondent adds.

The "News-Chronicle" states that there is something incongruous in the repeated Japanese demand that Britain should recognize that a state of war exists in China when the Japanese themselves have persistently refrained from a declaration of war and describe the long continued aggression as "an incident."

Nazi Fear Of Truth

CENSORSHIPS OF FOREIGN MAILS

METZ, July 21 (Reuter)—It is reported that all correspondence bearing British and French postmarks is being subjected to censorship at post offices in German towns along the Franco-German frontier.

Letters are examined by means of infra-red rays and suspicious ones, also all newspapers, are opened in order to see that they contain no messages.

The same control is being exercised in Germany regarding correspondence addressed abroad.

RAILWAY TUNNEL DAMAGED BY GUERRILLAS

CHUNGKING, July 21 (Reuter)—The Peiping-Hankow railway tunnel at Wusheng-kwan is said to have been badly damaged by Chinese mobile units and is holding up all traffic between Hankow and Sinyang, says a Chinese despatch.

GIRL FALLS FROM TRAMCAR

HENNESSY ROAD ACCIDENT

Falling from a tramcar which was passing the offices of the "Hongkong Daily Press" shortly after 11 o'clock last night, a Chinese girl was rendered unconscious, and was later removed by ambulance to hospital.

It appears that the girl, named Leung Mui-hing, aged 17, boarded a tram near the junction of Percival Street, with a fellow-lodger, to go to Central district.

The tram had travelled some twenty yards when the girl, who apparently lost her grip in the rear part of the third-class compartment, fell heavily to the road.

The fellow-lodger immediately went to her assistance. He picked her up and carried her to the "Daily Press" office where she was attended to.

Meanwhile, police whistles attracted a Chinese sergeant, a constable and a police reservist, the sergeant eventually telephoning for an ambulance from the Fire Brigade.

The girl was still unconscious when she was removed to hospital.

On inquiry from the police at a late hour last night it was learned that the girl had not recovered consciousness at the Queen Mary Hospital.

Brewers' Chance For Honours

Win Title If Beat Mindanao To-day

BY R.O.Y.

A large gathering of baseball enthusiasts, is expected to be on hand, at 2.30 this afternoon, when the undefeated Union Brewers go into their clash with the U.S.S. Mindanao who are the only remaining contenders still in the running for this year's pennant.

The Brewers have won all of their seven outings and cannot be ousted from their leading position if they account for the Mindanao to-day. Chet Bennett will field his strongest line-up to cope with the Mindanao threat and the odds are slightly in favour of the Beer Barons registering their eighth straight victory.

NEW ACQUISITIONS

Cecil Douglas, skipper of the opposing aggregation, will bolster up the weak spots in his line-up with three new acquisitions, Keping, Sheehan and Stansbury. How good these newcomers are, remains to be seen, but they have evidently instilled Douglas with plenty of confidence about the outcome of this important engagement.

Both squads have played some in-and-out ball this season, but if these contenders should both be right, a grand struggle will result. "Crooner" Ruel and "Paintpot" Thomas will form the battery for the sailors and should not be unduly troubled if they can manage to get by Dave Leonard safely.

"Jesse" Arculli and Hal Wing Lee will do duty for the Brewers, but I have a feeling that they will have a tough time holding the slugging sailors who are a better balanced hitting side. Dependence on the result of the Union Brewers-Mindanao battle, is the importance of the first game to-morrow morning, between the Brewers and South China.

If the Brewers defeat the Mindanao gang, nothing will depend on this match, but if the sailor boys should account for U. S. South China have an excellent chance of pushing the Beer Barons back into the same slot as the Mindanao.

WORTH WATCHING

Whether or not this match should be in a position to affect the championship, it should be well worth while watching; fans will remember the bad scare South China gave the Brewers in their previous meeting when the latter just managed to scrape home by the barest of margins, 9 tallies to 8.

Nam Wah will be stronger, than on that occasion, and Hank Chang will not again make the mistake of grooving them for Dave Leonard, which was the main factor in U. S. B's previous win. The nightcap will give Douglas an opportunity of giving his second stringers an outing against the Hongkong Baseballers.

Despite "Doc" Molthen's proud boast of his gang's capabilities of scaring their opponents to death, the Club have had 74 runs scored against and 20 markers for them in six outings. Their sluggers have connected for a total of 21 safeties in 147 times at bat for an average of .143, which must surely be a new low.

The Mindanao boys were looking forward to fattening their batting averages in this match but Larry Lawrence is back in town, and should have more success in holding the sailors than Billy Clague would have done.

Old Soldiers To Celebrate B.E.F. Landing

"CONTEMPTIBLES" PLAN TO VISIT BOULOGNE

To commemorate the landing of the British Expeditionary Force on French soil in August 1914, the members of the Argyll and Sutherland Highland Regimental Association (London Branch), their wives, families and friends, are going to Boulogne on August 13 for a special ceremony.

Many of them are Old Contemptibles, and the trip is being arranged in conjunction with the Old Contemptibles Association.

Mr. James Duguid, secretary of the association, said: "We are hoping for an expedition of 750 people, with a special boat and train. There are 255 members of the association in the London branch alone, and we hope that as many of them as possible, and their families and friends, will be able to come."

Wreath On Memorial
There will be a march to the Boulogne War Memorial, where we will lay a wreath, followed by tea in the Casino Gardens.

"After tea members are free to

BRITISH FORCES IN PALESTINE: NEW C-IN-C

Major-Gen. M. G. H. Barker, who, since the departure of Major Tim Hay, of the Black Watch, has been the tallest officer at the War Office, has left to assume command of the British forces in Palestine.

He has already been detained in Whitehall twice. As Director of Recruiting and Organisation during the recent expansion programme Gen. Barker has achieved so much that when he was given another post second thoughts at the War Office stopped him leaving.

Last summer his removal to India to take up a district command was countermanded. He was hooked for Palestine last December. Now that the recruiting problem is no longer acute it is felt he can be spared for Palestine.

Gen. Barker should be a success there. He has initiative, resource and tact—three qualities not always united in a G. O. C. and particularly necessary in Palestine.

do as they like until midnight. The Casino will remain open until then. "The cost of the whole trip, meals included, will not be more than 24s. maybe less."

This is the second visit of this kind undertaken by the association. Last year the members had a similar parade, which was a great success, and it is hoped to make the expedition a yearly one.

BILLIE BURKE AND OLIVER HARDY

Billie Burke surveyed herself in a full-length mirror on the "Zenobia" set at the Hal Roach Studios. This first Oliver Hardy-Harry Langdon picture has the Southern United States in the 1870's as its setting. Costumes of the period make lavish use of yardage and hoops.

Miss Burke looked at the voluminous skirt that projected far beyond the confines of the mirror. She turned sideways and the huge bustle effect came into view. She pulled the puffed sleeve into its full glory and then turned to Edward Sutherland, associate producer of the romantic comedy.

"Mr. Sutherland, you don't think anyone seeing the picture will mistake me for Mr. Hardy, do you?" she archly inquired.

SPRIT OF DEMOCRACY IN HOLLYWOOD'S MOTION PICTURE STUDIOS

"Move over, Joan, you're standing on the juice cable." It was the head electrician speaking to Miss Joan Bennett, who co-stars with Louis Hayward in "The Man in the Iron Mask," an Edward Small Production. Joan, it seems, was standing on a cable which the electrician desired to move.

Such is the spirit of democracy within Hollywood's motion picture studios. A glamorous personality to the millions of fans who see her pictures, Joan Bennett, on the set, regards herself as just another worker. She calls the grips, electricians, camera men, carpenters and extras by their first names and they return the compliment.

"That's one of the things that makes motion picture work as interesting as it is," explains Joan, speaking in defense of the spirit of democracy and friendly cooperation which is always so noticeable where pictures are being made.

Humanized business
"After all, this is probably the world's most humanized business. It is up to the players to give their best in the way of convincing performances, and to do this one must be perfectly relaxed. It is obviously impossible for anyone to be stilted or formal one minute and then to step before the camera and suddenly become a regular person."

"I personally am of the opinion that there is less hypocrisy in Hollywood than any place else, regardless of what other people may say on that subject. A person cannot be 'regular' one minute and something else the next." The day that Joan reported for work in "The Man in the Iron Mask" she studiously set about to learn the first names of everyone working on the set.

"FOUR DAUGHTERS" AT MAJESTIC TO-MORROW

"Four Daughters," the Warner Bros. picturization of a famous story by Fannie Hurst, will open at the Majestic Theatre tomorrow. A moving tale of four devoted sisters who fall in love with the same man, the film has one of the most unique casts in motion picture history.

Given stability by the presence of such tried and true performers as Claude Rains, May Robson, Frank McHugh and Dick Foran, the cast is made remarkable by a couple of striking circumstances.

First, it marks the only time in motion picture history when three sisters not only played important roles in the same picture but were, in fact, cast as sisters. They are, of course, the Lane girls, Priscilla, Rosemary and Lola. The fourth sister, incidentally, is played by Gale Page, who is said to fit beautifully into the Lane ensemble.

By afternoon she knew all of them. It is the same with other high-salaried people working on the picture, James Whale, the director, would probably pay no attention to a person if he were addressed as "Mr. Whale." But let the prop man yell, "Wait a minute, Jim, we've got to get that book back into the scene!" and he responds without hesitation.

Democratic Spirit
The history of Hollywood's democratic spirit goes back to the very beginning of the picture business. When the first film companies moved west, the social set of Los Angeles failed to receive actors and actresses with open arms. They were regarded generally as strange people engaged in a strange business. It was only natural that they would most enjoy the company of people who could talk their own language and discuss their own problems.

Its Rewards
It didn't matter whether the person happened to be a grip, an electrician or a studio laborer. If he could talk the language of pictures he could find plenty of people who would enjoy his conversation. This spirit of democracy had its rewards, too, because it enabled many competent men and women to make contacts which enabled them to go forward in the business.

A good example of this is the case of Alfred T. Green, who directed Small's recent picture, "King of the Turf," starring Adolphe Menjou. Green started his career as a laborer at the old Selig Studios. He worked hard after hours he would dress up and drop into the lobby of the Alexandria Hotel, where most of the up-and-coming number of picture people assembled.

Green, always a bright conversationalist, was also a good "mixer." One day, Colin Campbell, an early director, needed a man to help him on a big scene.

His eyes landed on Green and the latter became the first assistant director in the motion picture business. A couple of years later he was running the whole Selig organization.

"Good party last night, wasn't it?"
"Er—yes—I suppose so. Somehow I don't seem to remember things very clearly. I've got a vague recollection of somebody wearing a fez."
"Yes. That was you."
"Oh, I see. Tell me, Philip—do you remember me being dropped head downwards from a great height on to a concrete floor, by any chance?"
"Slight headache, eh?"
"Philip—I wish I had your flat for modesty. I feel as though I had lived on an exclusive diet of iron filings and broken glass for the last few years. What amazes me is that you seem to be so disgustingly cheerful and bright this morning."
"I know. It must be very exasperating. A medicine man warned me to stick to 'Gimlets' at parties. So I always take the precaution of bringing my own bottle of Rose's Lime Juice. You may cock a sceptical eyebrow, Edwin—but it works."
"How?"
"Rose's Lime Juice is the latest thing in therapeutic agents. It restores the metabolic balance—suitable for a mind such as yours, Edwin—it prevents hangovers."
"Why—oh why—didn't you tell me this last night?"

DUCHESS OF KENT IN TEARS

ROYAL COUPLE TALK TO THETIS WIDOWS

Tears filled the eyes of the Duke and Duchess of Kent when, in a heavily curtained room at Speke Airport, Liverpool, on July 7, they talked with forty bereaved women—relatives of civilians who lost their lives in the Thetis disaster.

The Duke had asked for the meeting to be arranged, and the sad party of mourners dressed in black had been brought from Birkenhead.

The Royal couple carried out the interviews alone. They spoke to everyone, and expressed sympathy.

FORTHCOMING MARRIAGES

The following forthcoming marriages are announced.

Mr. Frank Ernest Hoebich, civil engineer, residing at Southcliff, Stanley, and Miss Hildegard Else Anna Marold, of the same address.

Mr. Valentine John Philipov, marine engineer, residing at the Seamen's Institute, and Miss Katerina Kolcheva, of No. 5, Rue Lafayette, Shanghai.

Mr. Ngan Chung-ki, teacher of the Ying Wa College, and Miss Daphne Wong, scenographer, Hongkong Motor Accessories Company, No. 47, Johnston Road, third floor.

EARL OF HOPETOUN

The wedding of the Earl of Hopetoun and Miss Vivien Kenyon-Slaney will take place at Westminster Abbey on July 24.

The Earl of Hopetoun, who is 27, is the son and heir of the Marquess and Marchioness of Linnithgow.

Miss Vivien Kenyon-Slaney is the elder daughter of Capt. R. O. R. Kenyon-Slaney and Lady Mary Gilmour, and is a granddaughter of the Duke of Abercorn, Governor of Northern Ireland. She will be 21 this year.

Singapore is to have a new battalion this year—the 2nd Battalion of the Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment), which has been on service in Palestine for the past two or three years.

Further money contributions from overseas Chinese have been received by the Chinese National Government. Messrs. Chin Yuan-yung and Chang Hsi-yen, prominent merchants in Batavia, Netherlands East Indies, have contributed $200,000 through the Chinese Consulate-General. The Hongkong Working Artists' Guild is opening a Summer School of Drawing, conducted by Mrs. Ernie Freedlander (Berlin-Paris-Milan) at the Cathay Ball Room, top floor, King's Building (by kind permission of the proprietor).

The School will be held on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to noon, commencing next Monday July 24. Payment of $25 in advance entitles the student to 12 lessons. Equipment will be provided at low cost.

800 GUESTS AT ROYAL COURT

Big Crowds Watch Debutantes Arrive

The King wore the scarlet and gold full-dress uniform of Colonel-in-Chief of the Irish Guards for the Fourth Court of the season at Buckingham Palace on July 14.

At his side the Queen was in white and gold, with magnificent diamonds—among them the famous Koh-i-Noor—forming her tiara, necklace and bracelets.

Behind the King and Queen on the crimson-carpeted dais were the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, Lady Maud Carnegie, and Vice-Adm. the Hon. Sir Alexander and Lady Patricia Ramsay.

In front of twin golden Thrones stood Gentlemen at Arms, brilliant in scarlet uniforms and shining breast-plates.

A band of the Coldstream Guards played as debutantes filed slowly past the dais. There were about 800 guests in the big white and gold ballroom.

Mr. E. R. Hearther, of the local American President Line office, is reported to be planning his departure for a vacation in America by the s.s. President Taft, sailing from Hongkong, August 12.

The Young Chung Girls' Middle School will hold its speech day at the Lee Theatre at nine o'clock to-morrow morning, when prizes will be presented by Mme. Liao Chung-hoi. An interesting programme has been arranged.

The appointment of the former Netherlands Consul-General in Singapore, M. Daniels, to the post of Minister at Rio de Janeiro, will shortly be announced according to an official statement.

M. Daniels is at present employed at the Foreign Office at the Hague and is a specialist on questions of emigration. Previous to his appointment as Consul-General in Singapore, where he spent eight years, M. Daniels had been for seven years Consul-General in China. (T.O.)

Foreign And War Office Official's Decision At Joint Conference

TOKYO, July 21 (Reuter)—It was revealed to-day that Mr. Arita, the Japanese Foreign Minister, had a conference with the Premier, Baron Hiranuma, on Thursday afternoon and then held a joint conference with Foreign Office and War Office officials, with the result that it was decided that Japan could not accept the revisions contained in the memorandum Sir Robert Craigie, the British Ambassador, had handed to Mr. Arita on Wednesday afternoon which, the "Asahi Shimbun" states, virtually amounted to a refusal of the demands contained in the memorandum which Mr. Arita handed to Sir Robert Craigie on Wednesday morning.

The "Nichi Nichi" states that the joint conference agreed that Japan should push on with her objective even at the cost of the parley, unless Britain changes her present attitude.

ANTI-BRITISH BOYCOTT CAMPAIGN IN TIENTSIN

TOKYO, July 21 (Reuter)—Measures for the boycott of British goods were formulated to-day by the anti-British boycott campaign committee in Tientsin, according to a Japanese despatch.

The measures include picketing and the appointment of special agents to popularise the boycott.

The pickets would urge firms and warehouses to suspend sales of British articles, but compensation would be paid for loss of trade.

The committee recommends organisation of special control over sales and purchases of British goods.

CHUNGKING, July 21 (T/Ocean)—The Chinese Government and people are following the Anglo-Japanese negotiations in Tokyo with the closest attention.

Although the Chinese official quarters thus far refrained from commenting on the negotiations, the Chinese attitude is clearly reflected by the Chinese press, which today unanimously expresses the hope that the political farsightedness of the English people will prevent submission to Japanese threats and bluffing.

Should the Chinese hopes in this direction be disappointed, China would be still able to look forward with calm, as far as England's attitude towards the Sino-Japanese conflict is concerned, the papers declare, since it could be taken for granted that, in view of the various treaty obligations, England would at least maintain her present attitude of neutrality.

Treaty Obligations
As the treaty obligations which are thus assumed to be fixing the course of the British policy in the Far East, the Chinese press cites those arising from the Nine-Power Pact and those arising from the League of Nations.

With regard to the latter's obligations, the opinion is expressed in the editorials of the papers that the membership in itself constituted the guiding influence on the policy, but particular mention is made of the resolution signed by the League of Nations members on October 16, last year, binding all members of the League not to take any actions which would have the effect of weakening China in the present conflict and advocating that the members should individually render assistance to China.

Insult To Britain

The present war with Japan, the papers declare, had originally been China's affair only and, on the basis of this conception of war, the Chinese Government set about the task of defending the country. But since, with the attack on China, Japan has now coupled an attempt of ousting all foreigners from the Far East and since she was working in this direction in a way which was particularly insulting to Great Britain, foreign powers now, by necessity, had to concern themselves about the Sino-Japanese conflict.

The attitude Japan has adopted towards Great Britain is all the more insulting, the papers declare, in view of the fact that Great Britain and Japan had once concluded an alliance in 1902 and had been partners of the treaty for 20 years.

PETITION FOR ARREST OF WANG

CHUNGKING, July 21 (Central)

A joint petition has been submitted by Dr. Lo Wen-kan, Dr. Tao Meng-ho and six other members of the People's Political Council, to Chairman Lin Sen and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek urging that steps be taken to effect the immediate arrest of Wang Ching-wel, the expelled Kuomintang leader.

The petition says that the greatest indignation has been aroused among the Chinese against Wang's recent actions which are becoming more shameful and unreasonable.

Accusing Wang for his fickleness, the petition points out that during the conferences at Kuling in July, 1937, when the Luauencas Incident broke out, Wang advocated the "sovereign earth" and "national sacrifice" policy against Japanese aggression, but after one and half years' resistance he fled from Chungking and tried to persuade the nation to surrender to the enemy.

In contradiction to his own declaration at the second plenary session of the People's Political Council that "so long as Japan does not halt her aggression, there can be no peace because 'peace' under aggression is no real peace but surrender," Wang is now advocating surrender.

The petition expresses the belief that Wang's subversive activities will have no effect upon China's resistance, though they constitute a great blemish to the national honour.

In conclusion, it is necessary that Great Britain should be warned once more to be as careful as possible in her negotiations with Japan.

SHANSI TOWN RETAKEN

SECOND ATTACK ON CHAOAN

LOYANG, July 21 (Central)—Climaxing a series of Chinese counter-attacks, Tungcheng, a vital town in south-east Shansi, was retaken by Chinese forces on Wednesday.

The crack Japanese seventh and eighth detachments were routed, Japanese military horses and other supplies were seized by the Chinese. With the Chinese recapture of Tungcheng, the Japanese attempt to capture Tsincheng and Yangcheng to the east was foiled.

Following up with their success, the Chinese continued their drive and recovered several more important points around Tungcheng, including Nanpetteyin, Houwa, Tsiempo, Shanytsun and Chwangtowsun. Japanese casualties at those points were heavy.

Attack On Chaoan

LIUHUANG, July 21 (Central)—The Chinese started a second counter-offensive on Chaoan (Chaochow), at the northern end of the Chaochow Railway, on Tuesday.

Sweeping down on the city from the east, west and south, they fiercely attacked the Japanese, killing and wounding many of them. In an attempt to halt the Chinese advance the Japanese set fire to rows of civilian houses.

Tenghai, at the entrance of the Han River on the east Kwangtung coast, 12 miles north-east of Swatow, has once again been lost to the Japanese.

Chientang River

CHUNGKING, July 21 (Central)—Fighting has been raging around Haining, Tungshang and Tehtang north of the Chientang River in Chekiang between the Japanese and the Chinese who have crossed the river, says a report.

Strategic points around Kashing on the Shanghai-Hangchow Railway have been recaptured by the Chinese.

Highway Destroyed

CHANGSEU, KIANGSU, July 21 (Central)—With the aid of 1,000 Chinese guerrillas based at Minshan, a hill lying between Juchang and Tehan in north Kiangsi, completely destroyed on the night of July 18 the Fanchia-fow section of the Juchang Wuning highway which had just been repaired by the Japanese.

Japanese troops who arrived the following morning were challenged and repulsed by the guerrillas. All Chinese civilians safely withdrew under the protection of the guerrillas.

Attack Repulsed

SHIHING, July 21 (Central)—Three hundred Japanese and puppet troops attacked Yenngui in the West River at dawn on Thursday. They were repulsed after two hours' fighting.

Hunan-Hupeh Border

MILO, HUNAN, July 21 (Central)—The Chinese had a brief re-occupation of Yanglowze, on the Hunan-Hupeh border, on July 19. Chinese vanguards broke into the town in the early hours of the morning. They withdrew upon the arrival of Japanese reinforcements from Sienning, south Hupeh town on the Canton-Hankow Railway, 54 miles south of Wuchang.

Opium Den Discovered Near Toulon

FRENCH SOCIETY SCANDAL

PARIS, July 21 (T/Ocean)—The discovery of an opium den run by the widows of two French officers is the latest sensation in the society of Toulon, according to press reports here.

The opium den, which is said to have been frequented by a number of high officers, was maintained in a luxurious villa rented by the 54-year-old Madame Firban and the 70-year-old Mme. Giraudet, on the peninsula of Giens, a seaside resort near the French naval base of Toulon on the Mediterranean.

Secret Room

Two detectives, posing as friends of a captain known to the owners of the establishment, succeeded in gaining admission to the villa.

DEFIED HIS DOCTOR TO AID CHINA

J. B. PRIESTLEY'S DECISION

Famous author and playwright, J. B. Priestley wants the world to know the truth about China, and on July 12 he gave the story behind his decision to act as Editor of "China News"—whose aim is to give the unvarnished truth about the war.

"I am taking on the task in addition to a heavy amount of other work and in face of my doctor's advice that I am working dangerously hard just now," he said.

Gesture of Sympathy
"This is not a sudden decision. I have been considering the step for some time," he explained. "I felt compelled to make some gesture to show my sympathy with China's side in the war."

"Japan is responsible for starting this war of naked, inexcusable aggression. The campaign has been conducted on the Japanese side with the most barbaric brutality the world has ever seen inflicted on a peaceful people by a race of militaristic megalomaniacs," he added.

"Yet the Chinese have put up a steadfast and courageous resistance without descending to the savage methods of the race which has attacked them. Mr. Priestley believes China will come out of the war stronger than when she entered it."

SIX KILLED: SWISS PLANE CRASHES

BERNE, July 21 (T/Ocean)—A commercial plane of the "Air Suisse," which was on the Vienna-Munich route, crashed yesterday evening near the Konstanz aerodrome.

The pilot, wireless operator, a commercial agent of the Air Suisse company and three passengers were killed. Further details are lacking.

The total population of Italy is now 44,291,000, according to a census taken in June. In that month alone 79,560 children were born alive and the number of deaths was 40,340 so that the excess of births over deaths was 39,240.—(T.O.)

International Tension

BRITAIN URGED TO ACCEPT SOVIET VIEWPOINT

PARIS, July 21 (Reuter)—According to well-informed French circles, the French Government has come to the conclusion that Britain will have to make further concessions to the Soviet in order to obtain an early anti-aggression agreement.

It is considered here that the tense situation has been aggravated by the failure of the neutrality legislation in the United States and it is believed that France is, therefore, urging Britain to accept the Soviet viewpoint as regards assistance in the event of indirect aggression against the Baltic States.

HOW CONDITIONS IN SUBMARINES MIGHT BE IMPROVED

Experiments Described By Professor Haldane: Tribunal Adjourned

LONDON, July 21 (Reuter)—After 14 days of searching enquiry, the Thetis tribunal adjourned yesterday. It will meet formally on July 27 to fix a date for the renewal of the hearing.

Professor J. B. Haldane yesterday expressed the opinion that air conditions in a submarine might be improved by carrying soda lime to absorb the poisoned air in an emergency.

He also expressed the opinion that if the men had breathed oxygen three-quarters of an hour before going into the escape chamber, they would have experienced no difficulty in escaping.

ANOTHER EXPERIMENT
Describing another experiment, Professor Haldane said he had got four friends who were former members of the International Brigade fighting in Spain to go into a chamber in order to see whether other people reacted similarly to himself.

"One man was sitting on the floor, with his head in his hands, panting and saying he was feeling very bad. He was prepared to go on longer, but I did not want to make him ill."

Describing the last sensations of the doomed men, Professor Haldane said they would be something akin to the feelings after a strenuous physical exertion. The men would gradually become less and less sensible.

FUTURE PRECAUTIONS
In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Geoffrey Shakespeare, replying to a question, said that in future, a minimum number of contractor's employees would be carried in a submarine engaged in diving trials.

The captain of the submarine would be held responsible for seeing that only the minimum number of persons above the submarine's complement remained aboard for such trials.

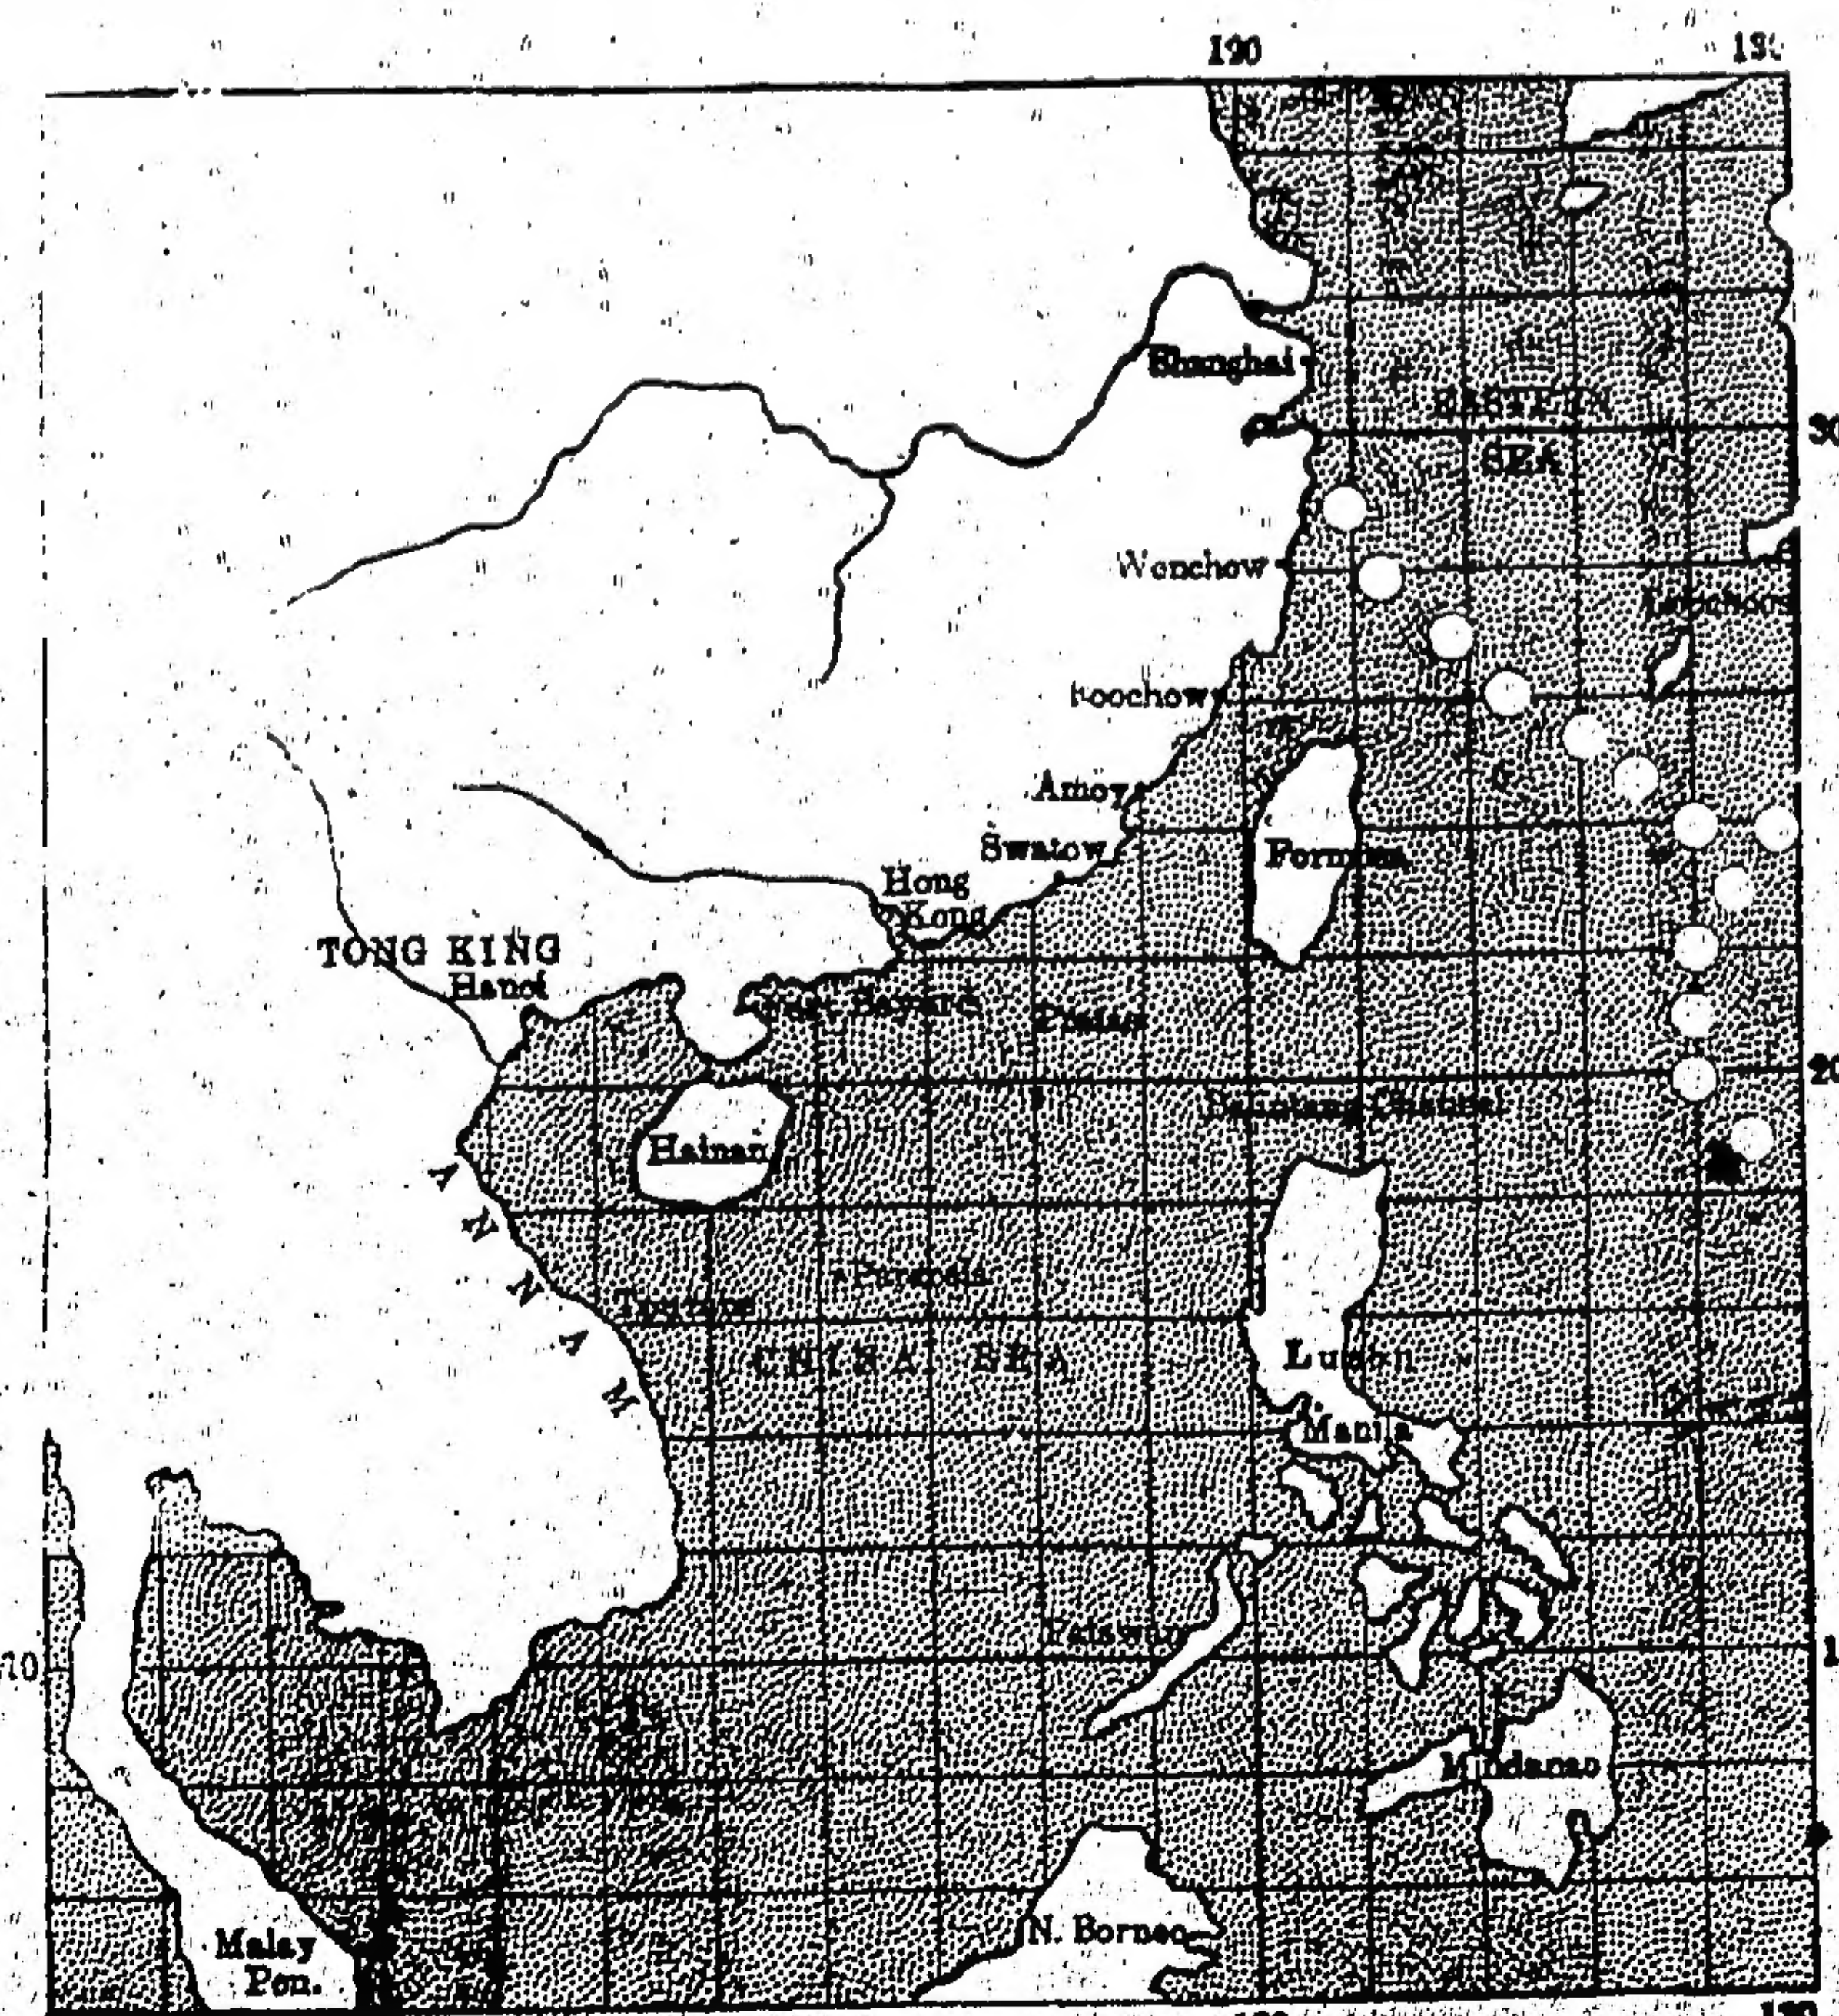

RUNAWAY BARRAGE BALLOON

LONDON, July 16 (By Air Mail)—A runaway barrage balloon, trailing its steel cable across the countryside, short-circuited overhead wires last night and blacked out half Lincolnshire.

STRICT SEARCH OF CHINESE IN CANTON

CANTON, July 21 (Reuter)—An unusual sight was witnessed outside the bridges leading to the Concession this morning as Japanese sentries minutely searched all Chinese entering or leaving Shamen, with at least 100 queued up waiting to enter.

It was learned from semi-official Japanese sources that the reason for this very strict searching at not only the bridges but at every sentry post throughout the city was because an armed Chinese had last night shot at and seriously injured a Japanese soldier in the heart of the city.

The typhoon, which was first reported on July 16, east of the Philippine Islands, in latitude 19° N. longitude 129° E., entered the coast on Thursday in the neighbourhood of Ningpo. This was the second typhoon threat to Shanghai within a week.

CATHOLIC NEWS & NOTES

A CHINESE PAINTING AT THE NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR: A FATHER JACQUINOT STORY: MASS ON EIFFEL TOWER: ABORIGINAL NUNS

In the office of the Mr. Grover Whalen, head of the New York World's Fair, visitors notice a remarkable Chinese painting. It has attracted so much attention that it has been described in almost every American newspaper. It was presented to Mr. Whalen, who is a Catholic, by the artist, Professor Chang Shan-ze, who was baptised last year.

Conspicuous in the picture are the Trylon and the Perisphere, the well-known symbols of the Exhibition. The Perisphere is represented as the earth, and above it appears the figure of Christ as the Prince of Peace, robed in Chinese costume, and wearing imperial ornaments and classical Chinese imperial headdress. The Sacred Heart appears on His breast.

Chang Shan-ze was formerly advisor to the President of the Chinese Republic, but he withdrew from political life to devote himself to painting and has acquired a considerable reputation as an artist. At one time he was actively anti-Christian, but when his mother became a Catholic he was led to inquire seriously about Catholicity, and his conversion, and that of all the members of his family, followed eventually. He was received into the Church by Bishop Yu Pin.

He now devotes much of his time to religious painting, because it appeals greatly to his artistic sense, and also because he wants to make up for his previous hostile attitude towards the Catholic Church. He says too that he strengthens his religious faith by expressing his ideas in religious symbols.

His religious paintings are attracting considerable attention and show signs of undoubted genius. He is celebrated as a painter of tigers and a group of them appear on the Perisphere in the New York painting. One of them is white, signifying the "Peaceful One" in Chinese mythology.

A Fr. Jacquinot Story

A remarkable story connected with Fr. Jacquinot, the French Jesuit of "Neutral Zone" fame, has come to light through the Catholic Review of Shanghai. A letter from Chile, sent by a Mrs. B. S.—was sent to him c/o that paper a few months ago. The writer told that eleven or twelve years ago she was in the Shanghai General Hospital, a little child of nine years of age, suffering as the result of a broken arm.

She was the child of non-Catholic, and in fact, anti-Catholic, parents, who had instilled into her great fear of priests, and she was therefore terrified when she saw a Catholic priest, with a beard, coming into the ward. He seemed to be popular with the patients for he had a cheerful word to speak to all, but she was terrified of him.

She tried to hide her head under the bed-clothes but he spoke to her and told her not to be afraid. He told her too not to be sad because she had a broken arm. "See," he said, "I have only one arm and I can do all my work with it." She overcame her fear and looked forward to his visits, and he brought her sweets and a bowl of golden.

After four days she went home but she never forgot the incident. It broke her prejudice against the Catholic Church and now she is a Catholic. Some months ago in the "Catholic Review," which a friend sends her, she saw a picture of the "bearded one-armed Father Jacquinot," and she wrote to ask if it could possibly be he.

Those who know Fr. Jacquinot are well aware of his visits to the Shanghai General Hospital not only 1921-23, but through many long years.

Mass On Eiffel Tower

The Eiffel Tower is celebrating its golden jubilee, this year, and the Catholic Metal-Workers' Trades Union, celebrated the occasion by having Mass celebrated on the first platform, 150 ft. above the earth.

When the Mass was announced it was intended that it should be a more or less private affair, offered for the metal-workers who built the tower, of whom the great number are now dead, but in the end a very large number of people attended. The Auxiliary Bishop of Paris, Mgr. Chaplart, presided, and a choir of sixty persons from the Conservatoire, who had offered their services, rendered the music.

The Eiffel Tower was for a long time the tallest building in the world, and it is at present only surpassed by other buildings, both in America. It is three times the height of St. Paul's Cathedral.

There was at first considerable opposition to its erection, for many people maintained that it would destroy the beauty of Paris.

It is now the city's best-known landmark. It will go down to history for the part it played in the early history of wireless transmission. Many people got their first thrill of listening-in when they heard a faint whisper from Tour Eiffel.

Aboriginal Nuns
It has often been stated that the Australian aborigines are among the least intelligent of the human species, and though this idea is fiercely disputed by those who have known them well, it is at least true that efforts to bring them to the normal ways of civilization are slower in producing effects than in the case of most others of the black race.

Considerable mission progress has been made among them in recent years by Catholic priests and nuns, and now the first Religious Congregation of nuns has been formed among them.

The Congregation is known as that of "Our Lady Queen of the Apostles," and it has been formed after repeated requests by the native girls themselves. The first postulants were seven in number and they have gone through a long period of training and study before being admitted. Their costume is blue and white and they wear sandals.

The Beagle Bay Mission, where the new Congregation has been established, was founded more than fifty years ago, and is the oldest of the aboriginal missions. It is part of the Vicariate of Kimberley, which covers 120,000 square miles, including some land that has never been explored.

The mission was first undertaken by the Trappist monks, who laid an excellent foundation before handing over the work to the Pallottine Fathers in 1900. The Sisters of St. John of God also take part in the mission work and they conduct three schools and maintain a hospital and leper asylum.

LESSON SERMON

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONGKONG

SUBJECT—TRUTH

The subject of this Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science churches to-morrow July 23 will be "Truth."

The Golden Text will be:—"Holy Father keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are one. Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth." (John 17:11,17).

Among others the following citations will be read from the Bible:—"For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth. The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations. O Lord, thou art my God I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth. Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee." (Ps. 33:4,11; Isa. 25:1; Isa. 26:3).

The following citations will also be read from the Christian Science Text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—"It is essential to understand, instead of believe, what relates most nearly to the happiness of being. To seek Truth through belief in a human doctrine is not to understand the infinite. That God is a corporeal being nobody can truly affirm. The Bible represents Him as saying:—"Thou canst not see My face; for there shall no man see Me and live." Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth, and Love, we shall obey Him and adore in proportion as we apprehend the divine nature and love Him understandingly, warping no more over the corporeality but rejoicing in the affluence of our God. Religion will then be of the heart and not of the head. The spiritual reality is the scientific fact in all things. The spiritual fact, repeated in the action of man and the whole universe, is harmonious and is the ideal of Truth." (Pages 285,207).

Peasant Boy As Dalai Lama

DISCOVERED AFTER 5 YEARS SEARCH

CHUNGKING, July 21 (Reuter)—A five-year-old peasant boy has been proclaimed the Fourteenth Dalai Lama, Ruler of Tibet and spiritual leader of millions.

He was recently discovered after a search of five years in a tiny village in Koknor Province by Tibetan monks and soothsayers.

En Route To Lhasa
Accompanied by special Tibetan envoys and representatives of the Chinese National Government, he is now en route to Lhasa.

The previous Dalai Lama died at Lhasa in December 1933 and the Tibetans believe that his spirit passed into the body of the child who was born at the exact moment of his death.

The search was conducted by means of signs, visions and portents and it was reported in January that the search had narrowed down to two candidates.

ANOTHER BARTER PACT

WASHINGTON, July 20 (T/Ocean).—The U. S. Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull, announced at yesterday's press conference that negotiations were now going on between Belgium and the United States for the conclusion of a barter agreement, similar to the one recently concluded between the United States and Britain.

Mr. Hull added that he had discussed the project exhaustively with the United States Ambassador to Brussels, Mr. Joseph Davies, who was at present on a visit to the United States. Mr. Davies would now continue the negotiations with the competent authorities.

The Secretary of State stressed, however, that the negotiations have not yet reached any very advanced stage.

According to informed quarters here, the planned agreement would provide for the exchange of American cotton, maize and wheat against caoutchouc and tin from Belgium and the Belgian Colonies.

FRANCO-CHINA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

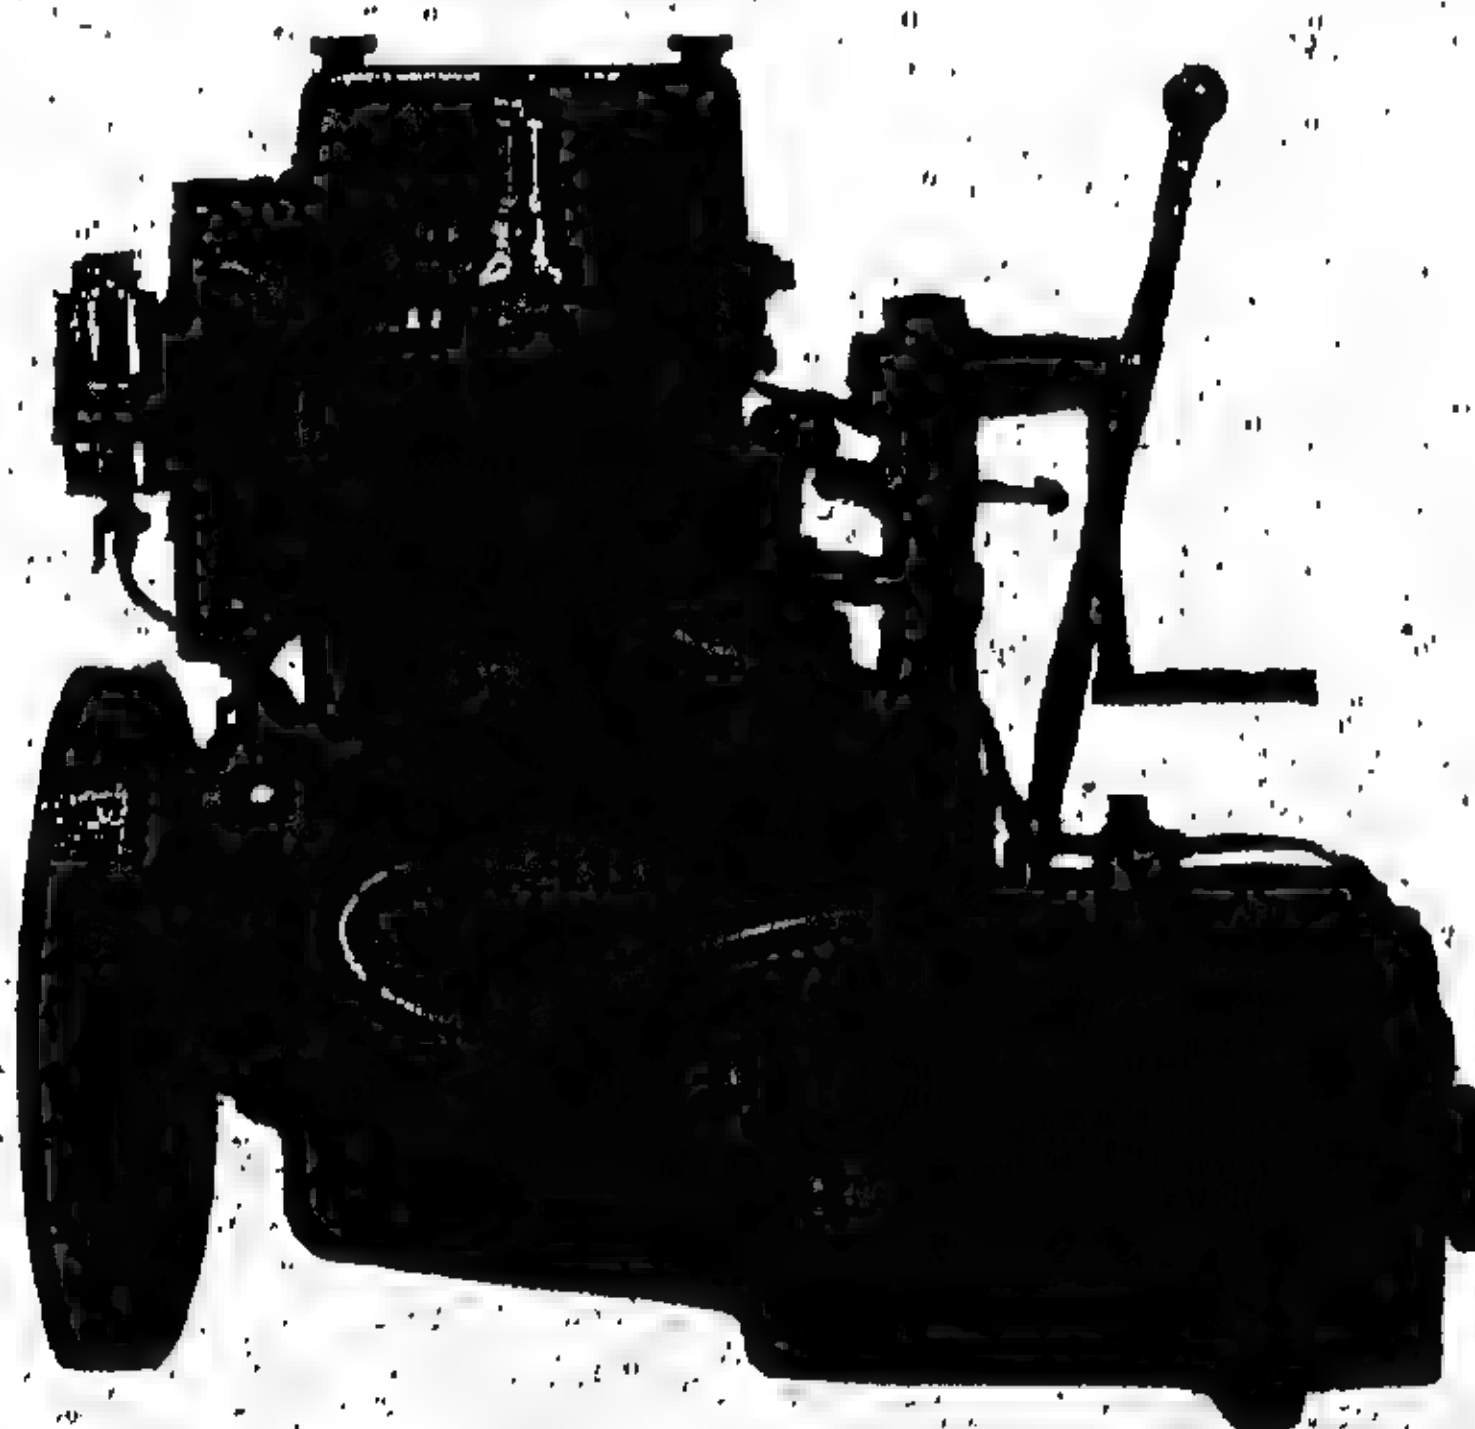

A Franco-Chinese Chamber of Commerce to place the trade relations of the two countries on a firm basis and promote closer co-operation in the Far East will be formed next month.

The new organization will be semi-official with both government participating on an economic basis, these sources said. However, no political matters will be considered. The organization will confine itself to the immediate problem of promoting trade relations between the two countries, these sources asserted.

Informed quarters added that the proposed Chamber of Commerce would make better relations between Indo-China and China possible and assist in carrying out the provisions of the Nanking Agreement. This agreement permitted China to transport munitions and war supplies into the country according to the needs of the Chinese Government.

H. K. STOCK EXCHANGE

Trading during the week must be described as somewhat disappointing. At times it seemed the market was at last being roused from its lethargic state to one of promising activity, only to find the activity short lived and the market relapsing to its former state. Enquiries are still filtering in for the more popular UNITIES, but the supply is only partially met and higher prices asked for further supplies, enquiries retire. This accounts for the facts that, although the volume of the turnover for the week is not altogether negligible, rates show practically no fluctuations for the period.

Tasman Sea Air Service Nears Opening

TRANS-ATLANTIC PLANS READY

The maintenance and ground work of the Tasman Sea service between Australia and New Zealand is just about complete.

A new radio station will be opened soon at East Tamaki Head, near Auckland, to help the air navigators as the aircraft fly at 150 m.p.h. over the Tasman Sea.

Australia's share of the undertaking includes establishment of a radio station on Lord Howe Island, an isolated post six hundred miles out from Sydney which is admirably located to provide bearings and weather information.

Fourteen Ensign landplanes, each weighing some 22 tons, are entering service this year. The first of six which will fly on European routes is now operating daily services between London and Paris in conjunction with a fleet of de Havilland Albatross monoplanes.

When all of the new seaplanes and landplanes are commissioned Imperial Airways and British Airways will dispose of a fleet of approximately eighty aeroplanes.

Trans-Atlantic Service
 British trans-Atlantic air services are fixed for inauguration next month. "Caribou," one of the Short S.30 seaplanes developed from the Empire flying-boat airliners, has successfully gone through final trials of the ingenious mechanism invented for safe fueling in mid-air, swiftly taking on board a thousand imperial gallons for fuel from a tanker plane flying near by.

New tanks have eliminated the uneven distribution among the three tanks of the flying-boat which upset earlier trials, and a different method of making first contact between airliner and tanker has also improved matters.

First Trips
 "Caribou" and a sister ship "Cabot" are expected to make the first trans-Atlantic journeys. Later they will be joined by the 31-ton "Golden Hind," which was launched from the Short company's slipway at Rochester, three weeks ago, and by the sister craft "Greenville" and "Grenadier."

Intake of fuel from the tanker may augment the loaded weight of the flying-boat to approximately 53,000 lb.—12,500 lb. more than the laden weight of the standard Empire craft, which means big increase in useful load. Other major differences between the trans-Atlantic boats and their fore-runners are the sleeve-valve engines and the stronger structure of the hull to carry the heavier loads.

CIVIL AIRCRAFT DEVELOPMENT

Government and industry will share the cost of research and development directed to the creation of new high-performance civil aircraft, declares Sir Kingsley Wood, Secretary of State for Air. The work will be supervised by the Civil Aviation Development Committee, a powerful body with an independent chairman and members representing the British Overseas Airways Corporation, the Air Registration Board, and the Society of British Aircraft Constructors.

Great Britain is determined to achieve the technical leadership in design and construction of civil aeroplanes which is hers in the military field. Nearly 234 millions will be expended by the British Overseas Airways Corporation during the next year or two in acquisition of new airliners.

HOW HITLER CAN BE CONVINCED

MR. CHURCHILL AND MR. EDEN

LONDON, July 10 (By Air Mail).—Mr. Churchill has been paid the compliment of being singled out by the German Government as Enemy No. 1 to its policy. Mr. Eden is Enemy No. 2. What surer indication could we give to Germany and to Hitler himself that we mean to stand up to aggression than by bringing these two men into the Government?

No doubt for the Prime Minister this presents personal difficulties. But we do not believe that in the hour of the country's danger Mr. Chamberlain would let that stand in the way.

To reconstruct the Cabinet on this broader and stronger basis would instantly consolidate the ranks of the Conservatives, reassure the Liberals and Labour men in the support they are offering the Government, and would compel Herr Hitler to realise that he has to reckon with a Britain absolutely united in the resolve to stop the nonsense which is working havoc in Europe.

YUNGTING RIVER FLOODS

CHUNGKING, July 21 (Central).—Large tracts of land in the districts of Antze, Yungting and Wutzing in east Hopen are inundated as a result of the collapse of the Yungting River dyke at Sukoehwang. The river has swollen by mountain freshets; says a Tientsin message.

The suburbs of Hunyuan district are also submerged by flood waters from the Sang Chien River. A large number of villagers were drowned. The flood waters at Shih-chiachwang, junction of the Peiping-Hankow Railway and the Chengtai Railway, have not yet subsided. Nineteen civilians, including 12 Japanese, are known to have been drowned and 1,800 houses to have collapsed.

TORTURE OF APPRENTICE IS ALLEGED:

"THE STAR"

MAGAZINE OF WAH YAN SCHOOL

We have received for review the Summer Term issue of "The Star," the magazine of Wah Yan College. The magazine is well edited and attractively printed in English and Chinese. Its 120 pages cover all phases of the school's activities, scholastic, athletic, and extra-curricular, including an account of the Past Students' Association and the work of the college in the field of war relief. There are, besides, articles of general Catholic interest, such as a description of the Jesuit Fong Pin Hospital in Canton and a sketch of the new Pope.

All the students of the college are Chinese. Their patriotism and their awareness of their country's struggle runs like a red thread through the whole publication. The good original drawings by Wong Wing Kit show the horrors of civilian bombing. The Debating Society last October discussed whether Hankow should be defended, the affirmative emerging victorious. There are reports of four past students serving in the Chinese army. Also included is an impressive account of the college's work for refugees, in which virtually every student has participated.

Before closing this review, we wish to return to the proceedings of the College debating society. They show that the interests of the boys extend beyond China and that they hold strong and consistent views on a number of world problems. The motion, made after Munich, "that we disapprove of the methods by which European peace has been obtained" was upheld by 22 votes to six.

The adherents of complete freedom of the Press defeated the proponents of control. Finally, the motion "that government by one's nationals is not the highest social good" was also debated. Though the magazine does not give the result of this discussion, one can guess what it was.

MEDIATION BY VATICAN RUMORED

PARIS, July 21. (T/Ocean)—The French Foreign Minister M. Georges Bonnet, yesterday afternoon received the Papal Nuncio to France, Monsignore Valerio.

The visit has attracted more than a usual amount of attention since it is believed that the Nuncio was interested in ascertaining the French official attitude towards a possible mediation activity on the part of the Vatican, for improving the present international situation.

It is regarded as possible that similar visits will take place in other European capitals during the next few days.

JAPANESE LAND AT SWABUE

HINGNING, KWANGTUNG, July 21 (Central)—Several hundred Japanese marines effected a landing at Swabue, south of Hoi-fung and about 70 miles northeast of Hongkong, at 10.30 o'clock yesterday morning.

The landing was carried out under the cover of a terrific aerial and naval bombardment. The landing parties encountered stiff Chinese resistance, suffering heavy casualties.

Desperate fighting raged till 1 o'clock in the afternoon, when the Chinese defenders, owing to the destruction of their defences, withdrew to a new defence line.

The Japanese are reported to be advancing towards Yuiwei, a point about 25 Chinese li from Hoi-fung.

OF APPRENTICE IS BURNING FIREWOOD APPLIED TO THIGHS

Charges Against Tailor At Kowloon Court

Hearing of the case against Lam Tat-sam, tailor of No. 37, Temple Street, ground floor, who is charged with ill-treating one of his apprentices and, alternatively, with assaulting the apprentice, was commenced before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Court yesterday.

Mr. H. W. Fraser, Maitland Inspector, prosecuted, and Mr. A. S. K. Lau appeared for the defence. It is alleged that Lam bound the apprentice with cord and applied a piece of burning firewood to his thighs to extract a confession from him of theft of a roll of black serge clothing.

"There were several scars transversely and obliquely across the middle of the boy's thighs. These had the shape of cane marks and there were traces of burns at the edges. There were five scars on the right thigh and four scars on the left thigh," stated Dr. P. P. Ko, Medical Officer at Queen Mary Hospital, in giving evidence of having examined the apprentice, Hau Wai-nam, 15, for injuries.

IMMEDIATE REACTION
Mr. Lau, in cross-examination contended that if the boy had been burnt in the manner he described, his immediate reaction would be to seek to escape from the cord binding him.

He would struggle, and in the course of the struggle the cord about his wrists would cut into his flesh. The boy had no scars on his wrists to show where the cord had cut him as he struggled. Hau Wai-nam, giving evidence, stated that he had been bound by the tailor and burnt with the firewood in the presence of one of the foks and of several apprentices. The foks, said witness, left the room because he could not stand the sight of such cruelty.

After Hau's evidence had been taken, the hearing was adjourned to Wednesday, July 26.

WAGNER LABOUR ACT

WASHINGTON, July 20 (Reuter)—The House of Representatives has ordered an investigation to determine whether a new board should be created to take over administration of the Wagner Labour Act from the National Labour Relations Board.

Mrs. F. E. Booker, of Talpo, reported that a gramophone, records, and crockery valued at $24, was stolen from a "bathing" shed at Middle Beach.

Japanese Find Pretext For Shanghai Anti-British Drive

CHUNGKING, July 21 (Central)—The Japanese papers in Shanghai have seized the Great Western Road incident, in which Chinese member of the staff of the Japanese Central China Railway Company was allegedly stabbed by a British Tommy, to further their publicity campaign against the British, according to a Shanghai message.

All the Japanese papers in Shanghai devoted front page columns to the incident. At the same time, the papers reported that the Central China Railway Company has decided to boycott English passengers and freight.

According to a release by the British Consulate-General in Shanghai, careful investigations conducted by the British authorities revealed that the Japanese allegations were incorrect.

TWELVE BIG SPEECHES

PRES. ROOSEVELT'S CAMPAIGN TOUR

WASHINGTON, July 21 (T/Ocean)—According to informed quarters here, President Roosevelt will make no fewer than twelve big speeches in the course of his forthcoming campaign tour, during which he will pay a visit also to Alaska.

The President will start on his campaign tour on August 2 or 3, that is, after the adjournment of Congress at the end of July.

It appears to be doubtful whether the President will discuss the neutrality question in his campaign speeches at Nashville, in North Carolina, where he will officially open the new National Park in the Smoky mountains.

President Roosevelt's tour will include Alaska, where he will inspect the new naval and air bases.

"Public Works"
Political interest, in the meanwhile, is focussed on the fate of Pres. Roosevelt's new public works programme, which provides for an expenditure of $2,800,000,000. This programme provides for the construction of numerous bridges, railway projects and other improvements.

It is expected that the Congress will ultimately sanction the programme, since the supporters of the President expect to overcome the opposition of the Republican bloc by certain concessions.

An American, Francis George Gieske, alias Rev. Brother Chee Hoy, 39, a Buddhist monk, was charged with failing to notify a change of his address within the prescribed period, when he appeared before Mr. T. J. Houston at the Central Magistracy yesterday, and was cautioned.

Mrs. E. G. Brooks, of No. 103 The Peak, was fined $2 by Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday, for parking overtime in Pedder Street, on July 3.
